Convention Notes
Working for Child Welfare.
The National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations, the largest child welfare organization of the world, meets here to-morrow afternoon, in connection with the National Education Association. Mr. Frederic Schott, of Philadelphia, is president, and Mrs. Arthur A. Birney, of Washington, is secretary.

Former Richmonders Here.
Among the delegates from the South attending the convention are: Mr. N. H. Appleyard, State Printer of Florida. He is a former Richmonder, having left this city to attend law school in Florida in 1902. He represented Florida in two national democratic conventions, and was an alternate in the Baltimore Convention. Mr. Appleyard is secretary of the Florida Press Association, and is publisher of the Florida School Examiner, the official paper of the State Department of Education.

Kindergarten Workers.
One of the most important of the child welfare organizations in convention here is the International Kindergarten Union, which is a federation of kindergartens in all the United States and Canada. It numbers 132 kindergartens, and has 1,000 kindergartners. It has 233 associate members. The union has as one of its principal objects the establishment of kindergartens as a permanent part of the school system.

The officers of the union are: president, Mrs. Mary B. Page, of Chicago, and secretary-treasurer, Miss Catherine Watkins, of Boston. The union has a committee on the education of every high school boy and girl. James E. Hill, N. C., is chairman of the committee on co-operation with the National Education Association. The union meets this afternoon.

Chairman Joseph H. Saunders, of the entertainment committee, stated last night that this was one of the largest and most enthusiastic conventions of the National Education Association that has been held in its history. More than 1,000 delegates are attending, and there are unnumbered delegates who have not registered, in addition to the thousands of visitors connected with the association, and visitors.

Many sightseeing parties have been arranged, and transportation facilities have been furnished by the association. The delegates are being taken to Petersburg and to all nearby points of historic interest, and other places of interest. The delegates will see "The Little Minister" and at 10 o'clock to-night the city of Richmond will be illuminated to honor the delegates in the Jefferson Hotel. Chairman Saunders issued a request yesterday that all delegates inform him this morning, so that arrangements can be made in time.

Professor Maddox Stricken.
Professor H. H. Maddox, of Oswego Normal College, Oswego, N. Y., was stricken with pneumonia on his arrival here Monday, and yesterday morning he was taken to the hospital. He is now in the hospital, and is expected to recover. He was a former professor of education at Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.
